

The new at-home feeling!

Astrid Algermissen
Scandi Do-It-Yourself
[Scandi Do it yourself]
Making everyday objects into stylish decoration pieces

Deutsche Verlags-Anstalt
144 pages
40 b/w illustrations 210 colour illustrations
Format 17,0 x 24,0 cm
March 2016
ca. 250 colour illustrations

Astrid Algermissen's great passion is creative design. Since 2012 this expert in technical drafting has been blogging at her CreativLIVE, where she regularly presents her fantasy-filled DIY ideas, which have earned great popularity.

www.creativlive.blogspot.com

Inspired by Scandinavian interior design, blogger Astrid Algermissen shows how everyday things can be transformed into stylish decoration pieces. All the ideas are entirely individual and the objects are easy and enjoyable to make – ensured by illustrated step-by-step instructions, sketches, and detailed templates. In addition, new techniques and materials with which particular effects can be created are presented – lavender pressing and techniques with freezer paper, for example. The variety of materials – metal, glass, paper, wood, fabric, leather, plastic, and stone – and the imaginative placement of the pieces in the spatial environment make this a unique book of creative ideas.

- The trend theme of upcycling combined with Scandinavian interior design
- Simple decoration ideas – little effort and low cost
- With instructional sketches and templates for downloading