Franzi von Kempis, born in 1985, studied German and Catholic theology. After practical training with ProSieben television she spent five years working for the MESH media collective, where she successfully produced social video campaigns. Since January 2018, she has been a video managing editor with T-Online. In addition, as "Besorgte Bürgerin", or "Worried Citizen", she posts her own videos about sociopolitical topics on YouTube and Facebook.

How should I reply when the person I am speaking to starts grinding the populist axe? What am I supposed to do when I am in on such discussions in the supermarket checkout, on the internet or during the intermission at the theatre?

Franzi von Kempis tells us how to react quickly and with well-founded arguments when your dialogue partner begins spraying poison against women or refugees. She provides strong arguments to counter dumb assertions, thus giving support to all those who would like to speak out against prejudice, half-truths, and conspiracy theories.
