Andreas Gruber, born in Vienna in 1968, studied at the Vienna University of Economics and Business and now works part-time for a pharmaceutical company. He is a bestselling author and has twice been awarded the Vincent Prize and three times the German Phantastik Prize.

Several men in their prime, successful and well off, are gruesomely murdered – and although they live in different towns, they all met a mysterious dark-haired woman shortly before they died. Yet the woman remains a phantom, as even inspector Walter Pulaski in Leipzig and Evelyn Meyers in Vienna, who are both involved in the cases, have to admit.

Unlike the police, they refuse to be discouraged, even less so when they realise that only together will they be able to solve the murder series. The perpetrator, however, is more cunning than they think – and is also playing his dangerous game with them ...
