

About a man who refused to believe the doctors' death sentence and brought his wife back to life

Hera Lind
The Man Who Really Loved
[Der Mann, der wirklich liebte]
Novel based on a true story

Diana Taschenbuch
384 pages
o b/w illustrations o colour illustrations
Format 11,8 x 18,7 cm
March 2010

Hera Lind, born in 1957, studied German language and literature, music, and theology. She was working as a singer when her first novel A Man for Every Key became a sensational bestseller. This novel was followed by many more, among them The Super Woman and The Champagne Diet. With her novels based on true stories she took the Spiegel bestseller list by storm.

www.heralind.com

When Michael Röhrdanz meets Angela, he knows she is the big love of his life. Eight years after the perfect wedding, she is pregnant for the third time, and they are both as happy as on the first day. Then something unfathomable happens: Angela has a serious stroke. From that moment on, she is a prisoner in her own body. But Michael won't accept what the doctors are convinced of: Angela is suffering from the "locked-in syndrome" and is going to die. What happens next is the story of a man whose true love moves mountains. Thanks to his efforts, Angela gives birth to a healthy little boy. And she survives.

Also available:

Die Erfolgsmasche [The Success Ploy], 2009
Herzgesteuert [Heart-Controlled], 2008
Schleuderprogramm [Spinning Programme], 2007
Die Champagner-Diät [The Champagne Diet], 2006