

For children and anyone who wants to know more about the brain

Rights sold to:
Korea (Bookhouse)

Gerald Hüther, born in 1951, is a professor of neurobiology. The many books he has written include Instructions for Use of the Human Brain, What We Are and What We Could Be, Let Our Children Play, and Children Need Roots.

www.gerald-huether.de

Professor Dr. Gerald Hüther, Inge Michels
Brain Research for Kids
[Gehirnforschung für Kinder – Felix und Feline entdecken das Gehirn]
Felix and Feline find out how the brain works

Kösel Sach-/Fachbuch
64 pages
Format 17,3 x 22,0 cm
February 2009

Children have a natural curiosity and an appetite for learning new things. So how can we help our kids to preserve their inherent desire to discover and create, and what can we do to avoid them losing it? Your children will be enthralled by this fascinating picture book, showing you how easy it is to make learning interesting and fun.

Also available:
Alsoavailable