

How does an interreligious dialogue succeed?

Niklaus Brantschen SJ,
Schwester Pia Gyger
Via Integralis
[VIA INTEGRALIS. Wo Zen und christliche Mystik sich begegnen]
Where Zen and Christian
Mysticism Meet A three-year course

Kösel Sach-/Fachbuch
160 pages
Format 17,3 x 22,0 cm
March 2011

Rights sold to:

World Rights available

Niklaus Brantschen, SJ, born in 1937, is a renowned spiritual guide and teacher and a Zen master, as well as the author of a number of successful books. He is the co-founder of the Lassalle Institute in Bad Schönbrunn, Switzerland, and led it along with Pia Gyger for many years. The Swiss Jesuit is known not only in his own country but also abroad as an inspiring spiritual author and seminar leader.

Read more at www.lassalle-institut.org

Without a doubt, the world's population is growing. It is expected to reach the ten-billion mark within a few decades. Global pressure is increasing for different cultures to find ways to get along with one another. The question then becomes who the people of other cultures actually are, how they live, what they think and what they believe. This is where the Via Integralis comes in. Founded by Niklaus Brantschen and Pia Gyger, this three-year course deepens the dialogue between Christianity and the "spirit of the East" (Buddhism / Zen).

Also available:

Also by Niklaus Brantschen:

On the Way of Zen [Auf dem Weg des Zen], 2002

Sold to: Spain (Mensajero)

On the Advantage of Being Good [Vom Vorteil, Gut zu sein], 2005

The Many and the One [Das Viele und das Eine], 2007