

Politically motivated attacks shatter Berlin's peace – as the US president is scheduled to make a state visit

Christian v. Ditfurth

Terrorland

[Terrorland]

A De Bodt thriller – Inspector de Bodt's sixth case

C. Bertelsmann

448 pages

Format 13,5 x 21,5 cm

August 2020

Christian von Ditfurth, born in 1953, is a historian freelancing as a writer in Berlin. His most recent publications include not only non-fiction books and thrillers, but also crime novels featuring the historian Josef Maria Stachelmann, which are also published in France, Spain and Israel.

www.cditfurth.de

Berlin is rocked by a series of attacks: a sightseeing bus is blown up; a plane explodes in the sky; the Russian ambassador dies, and his successor is murdered along with his wife and child. The German security services are at a loss, while the headstrong Berlin police inspector De Bodt tackles the case with his usual idiosyncratic methods.

Did someone in Moscow betray a secret? Are they silencing everyone who knows about it? And what will happen when the US president Ronald Dump comes to stay with the Chancellor on the eve of the US presidential election?

Press

"Ditfurth delivers sophisticated action – the best kind of clever political thriller." Westdeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung on Ultimatum