

Learning the first traffic rules with Nele

Usch Luhn

Nele Cries Out: Stop! The Lights Are Red

[Nele ruft: Stopp! Die Ampel ist rot]

cbj

24 pages

Format 20,0 x 20,0 cm

October 2016

With colour illustrations

Usch Luhn was born in a small village in Austria in 1959. She studied German and journalism in Berlin, and now shares her time between Berlin and the North Sea coast. She teaches at a film academy and sometimes writes film scripts, and has thought up stories for more than fifty books for children and young adults.

Nele is excited: traffic policeman Mr Pfeiffer has come to playschool! He has brought along everything he needs to turn the room into a street – a carpet showing the roads, some toy cars, traffic lights. What do you do at the zebra crossing? Where should you walk on the pavement, and what about the traffic lights? While they are walking in the park the children can show what they have learned. At a red traffic light Lorenz wants to cross the road. In the nick of time Nele holds him back: "Stop, Lorenz! The lights are red!"

- Road safety – already an important topic at playschool