

Hanns-Josef Ortheil, Dr.
Klaus Siblewski
How Novels Are Made
[Wie Romane entstehen]

Luchterhand TB
288 pages
Format 11,8 x 18,7 cm
April 2008

Hanns-Josef Ortheil, born in 1951, is one of the most important contemporary German authors and has received many awards for his work, among them the Brandenburg Literature Prize, the Thomas Mann Prize, the Nicolas Born Prize and the Hannelore Greve Literature Prize. In 2009 he became the first director of the newly founded "Institute for Literary Writing and Literary Studies" at the University of Hildesheim. His novels have been translated into more than 20 languages.

On writing between art and artisanship: using numberless examples, writer Hanns-Josef Ortheil and editor Klaus Siblewski shed light on all aspects of the creative process – from the first poetic inspiration and the drafting of scenes and characters, to the problem of handling large amounts of material and putting the final touches to the text.

A standard work for authors, literature lovers and every passionate reader.