

Tales about being alien and losing, of falling into traps and being free

Rights sold to:

Bosnia (Buybook), Italy (L'Orma),
France (Stock), Serbia (Samizdat),
Sweden (Weyler)

Saša Stanišić, born in Višegrad in Bosnia-Herzegovina in 1978, came to Germany when he was fourteen. He studied at the Deutsches Literaturinstitut in Leipzig. Stanišić has received numerous stipends and prizes, including German Book Prize 2019 for his latest book Herkunft, the Adelbert von Chamisso Prize and the Leipzig Book Fair Prize. His books Before The Feast and How the Soldier Repairs the Gramophone have been translated into numerous languages. For the short stories in Trappers he was awarded the Rheingau Literature Prize and the Schubart Literature Prize. Saša Stanišić lives and works in Hamburg.

Saša Stanišić
Trappers
[Fallensteller]

Luchterhand HC
288 pages
Format 13,5 x 21,5 cm
May 2016

People set traps, and people get caught in traps. When they quarrel, when they run businesses and make war, when they travel and grow old and love. If the trap works, someone loses. Sometimes it is the trapper.

These are stories about setting traps. About quarrels, business, war, travel, old age and, of course, love.

Press

"Saša Stanišić, who hails from Visegrad, is a blessing for German literature." MDR-Fernsehen

"A highly talented and passionate narrator." taz

"Anything Saša Stanišić touches with language comes alive; the characters become tangible, the worlds strangely familiar. Then there is this sense of humour: great movie pictures going through the mind!" Juli Zeh