Rebekka Zinn was born in 1967. Following a quite eventful life, she now lives with her husband and the youngest of their three children in a quiet, rural environment near Nuremberg. Besides writing, she is dedicated to her vocation of spiritual healing and 'clearing', the purification of foreign energies.

Numerous reports indicate that black magic attacks really do exist, and they can cause extensive injury: people suddenly become ill, relationships fall apart, unexplained things start to happen...

Rebekka Zinn has tapped into her personal experiences to present in this book ways people can safeguard themselves from such energies. As an experienced clearing medium, she knows how to defend herself against foreign energies and has helped many people affected and blocked by magical manipulations, possessions, and other negative forces. A fascinating guide with remarkable case studies, background information on black magic, love and separation spells, and effective defence techniques for self-protection.

- A book of encouragement, presenting new practical ways for self-help
- With many exercises, prayers, and meditations for effective protection
