Danijela Šaponjić is a renowned Feng Shui expert and life counsellor. After studying marketing and management in Munich she discovered her passion for Feng Shui, which she made into her profession in 2004.

Whether bedroom, kitchen, living room or office: the spaces in which we spend time are mirrors of our success, our health, and our essential, core personality. And not only that: through the conscious design and organisation of our environment we can create positive energies that will effectually support us in all areas of life.

Danijela Šaponjić combines the knowledge of Feng Shui with modern life coaching. Through her many case examples and exercises she shows how we can create oases of strength in which we can realign ourselves. Through this, doors open to inner spaces – to hidden potentials with which we can realise happiness, success, and our life dreams.

- Personality coaching through conscious and cognizant spatial arrangement with Feng Shui principles
- With many hints, suggestions, and case examples for more quality of life, vitality, and success
