Even as a child, Nico Sternbaum loved drawing and making up stories. Together with his parents he explored South Africa among other places, and built himself an adventure-tree house in his grandparents' orchard. After finishing school he studied at an arts academy, and today he is a successful illustrator and bestselling author. His books have been highly acclaimed by the media, and translated into other languages (including Chinese). Shake the Apple Tree was a Spiegel bestseller, and several of his books have been promoted and recommended by the German Reading Foundation. Nico Sternbaum lives in Wiesbaden.

Learning how to cut things out, stick them on and colour them in are three basic skills which kids aged 3 and older can learn with the help of this book. Nico Sternbaum provides simple animal motifs such as cats, chicks and hare. These simple crafting activities help to develop fine motor skills and ability to concentrate.

The book begins with the pages for sticking the animals in. In the second part are the pages with the motifs for cutting out. To make it easier to detach them, these pages are perforated. Short, droll rhymes accompany the pictures. At the end, the little 'cutting artists' will have created 14 pretty pictures and acquired their scissors skill certificate.

- With scissors skill certificate and perforated pages for easy detaching
- Helps to develop fine motor skills and concentration
- Cut out, stick on, colour in – creative fun for children aged 3+
